WINS A RACE AND MAKES FAST TIME IN A COMMON GALLOP.

Announcement that He Is to Start Frightens Nearly All the Other Horses Out of the Race.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 17.-Pulled up to a common gallop, and in the fast time of second slow, Dick Welles won the Speculation stakes at Hawthorne to-day. Orsina was second and Flocarline third. The stake, so far as a contest was concerned, proved a farce, as only three out of the original starters were left in. This wholesale withdrawal was caused by the announcement that Dick Welles would be a certain startmarksman), 758; Major Brown, Twenty- er. With only three left Dick Welles was made favorite at 1 to 5. Orsina was at 7 to 1 and Flocarline at 10 to 1. Off to a perfect start Dick Welles took command at the first turn, and with an advantage of two lengths galloped along as he pleased. Turning for home he still led by three lengths and won by that margin. The stake was worth $1,800 to the winner. Weather clear and cool. Summaries: First Race-Seven furlongs: Skillful, 103 (H. Union Pacific Suit of T. J. Taylor Was

Not Withdrawn. CINCINNATI, Aug. 17 .- There have been reports recently that the suit of Talbot J. Taylor and others to prevent the Union Pacific Company from voting at the annual election of the Southern Pacific Company would be withdrawn. It was stated during a give and take game to the home hole the recent flurries in Wall street that the Harriman and the Keene interests had reached an agreement at least so far as the appeal from the recent decision of Judge Lurton of Nashville was concerned. But these reports were set aside to-day when it was announced that the cause has been set for hearing here on the docket of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals next month and that the assignment was approved by counsel in the case,

OXFORD AND CAMBRIDGE GOLFERS WIN FIRST CONTEST HONORS.

Brilliant Playing on Links of Chicago Golf Club-Egan and Hunter Furnish Most Exciting Match.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17 .- Capt. J. L. Low's visiting team of Oxford and Cambridge English golfers to-day won the honors in the first international golf contests in the West, defeating Capt. L. T. Boyd's All-Western team on the links of the Chicago Golf Club in the scheduled four-ball four-some events 3 to 2 and winning the team competition by the score of 8 to 3. In the latter event National Amateur Champion Louis N. James, Western Amateur Champion Walter E. Egan and Veteran B. F. Cummins were the only representatives of the American golfers who succeeded in defeating their Brit-

Harvard Champion H. Chandler Egan and Norman F. Hunter, the Oxonian, furnished the most exciting match of the contest. Five hundred enthusiasts who watched the play saw Hunter total 71 for the most difficult golf course in America, breaking all records for competition and practice made by amateurs and professionals. Hunter won his match handily by 4 up, going out in 35 and coming home in 36, but Egan was not disgraced for totaling 76, which is one better than his former record and only one stroke worse than the record of 75 made yesterday by H. G. B. Ellis, of Oxford, and equaled early to-day by P. W. Leathart, of Cambridge. Not even the British Champion, Harry Vardon, who made the Chicago course in 74, played such remarkable golf as Norman Hunter, who is a product of North Berwick, Scotland, and who was cheered by the largest group of professionals from his native land that ever watched an amateur event. Hunter's feat of clipping off 11 strokes from the difficult bogey score appeared so brilliant that the victory of the Englishmen seemed a secondary matter. The record-breaking

Norman F. Hunter, Oxford: In ......3 5 3 5 4 5 4 4 4-36 Chandler Egan lost his match against the most machine-like golf that he ever encountered, being able to capture only two holes from the Oxonian. Egan was out in 40, and coming in he equaled Hunter's score. Hunter frequently holed putts of fifteen feet and seemed absolutely in control of the ball on the green. He never required three putts, took only one putt on six greens and used thirty putts in the entire round. At the third tee he topped his drive, but recovered so well that he took the hole one under bogey from his young rival. After a mediocre drive to the twelfth hole. bogey five, Hunter played so brilliantly that he won it in three. Walter E. Egan, Exmoor, and Harvard teammate of Chandler Egan, putted re-markably well and defeated H. G. B. Ellis, Oxford, 3 up, 2 to play. Egan's medal score was 79. J. A. T. Bramston, another Oxonian, and the only one of the visitors who clings to the old gutta ball, won 1 up from G. A. Ormiston, of Pittsburg, in nineteen holes. Ormiston was 2 up on his English rival at one time, but sure green work by Bramston squared the match at the eighteenth hole. Captain John L. Low. Cambridge, defeated Stuart Stickney, who had made 78 in the morning, 4 up. 2 to play. G. N. Barnes, Oxford, gave a fine exhibition of the long game and defeated Roswell F. Mundy, Riverside, 4 up, 3 to play. Champion Louis N. James and T. M. Hunter, the Oxonian, were all square in their match at the end of nine holes and played where the American won, 1 up. D. F. Ranson, Cambridge, had a tight match with B. D. Smith, of Onwentsia, but the latter succumbed, 2 down, by hard luck in having putts jump out of the holes at two greens. H. W. Beveridge, Oxford, turned the course in 78 and defeated J. M. Sellers, Glenview, 5 up, 3 to play. P. W. Leathart, Cambridge, defeated W T. G. Bristol, of the Home club, 1 up. B. F Cummins, who uses no wooden clubs, won from C. H. Alison, Oxford, 4 up, 3 to play, and C. H. Day, Oxford, defeated W. Osborne, Glenview, 1 up. During the four-ball four-some play in the morning the glare of the sun affected the visitors' play somewhat, but they won three out of the five matches. The Hunters defeated the Egans, 1 up. Bramston and Beveridge took their match from Ormiston and Stickney, 1 up, while Ellis and Leath-art, principally by the latter's score of 75, Osborne won by the same margin from Low and Alison. The latter had difficulty in keeping on the course To-morrow the Englishmen will practice on the Glenview golf course where Wednesday they will meet the All-Chicago team.
